To The President and Members of
The Council of the City of Philadelphia:

JOURNAL OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF PHILADELPHIA

I am returning herewith to your Honorable Body as disapproved Bill No. 110443, which was passed by Council at its session on June 16, 2011.

Bill 110443 would amend The Philadelphia Public Employees Retirement Code to make various changes to the Deferred Retirement Option Plan (DROP). The bill changes the eligibility requirements of the program for certain employees and changes the interest rate credited to DROP accounts. Additionally, the bill creates a Partial Lump Sum Option for retirees that would allow them to take a lump sum benefit at retirement, in exchange for an actuarial reduction of their regular monthly pension.

Bill 110443 recognizes that DROP is too costly and is designed to reduce that cost. However, Bill 110443 does not go far enough. Under Bill 110443, DROP will continue to exist and continue to cost the City money while maintaining a program that does not achieve its intended purpose of helping the City better manage its workforce. I strongly urge City Council to pass legislation to eliminate the DROP program altogether and free up scarce resources to fund taxpayer priorities.

DROP was established in 1999 with the purpose of creating an effective human resources planning tool that would not have material costs for the City. The program has failed to deliver - it is not used as an effective human resources planning tool and has resulted in significant costs to the City.

The cost of DROP has been estimated in studies commissioned by the Administration and by Council. While those studies provide different cost estimates, they both come to the conclusion that DROP has a substantial cost - at least $100 million to date and potentially substantially more. That is a cost that neither the pension fund nor taxpayers can afford.

Based on an analysis by City Council's actuarial consultant, under Bill 110443, DROP will continue to have a cost. The actual cost cannot be determined because it will depend on future participant behavior, which is not in the City's control. What we know from past experience is that as participants make the rational decision to maximize their DROP benefit, they also increase the cost to the pension fund and to taxpayers.

Furthermore, at a time when the pension fund is only 47% funded, DROP's added cost is unacceptable. Philadelphia's 47% funding ratio is one of the weakest among major American cities and DROP is a contributing factor to the pension system's weak financial health. A system as poorly funded as the City's simply cannot afford the extra burden of a DROP - even one with the likely reduced price tag created by Bill No. 110443.

Finally, I am returning this bill because it creates different classes of employees through the changes in eligibility rules that apply to certain members of the workforce, but not others.

Elimination of the DROP program is needed. The City cannot afford DROP under Bill 110443. I previously transmitted Bill 100542 to City Council. If enacted, this bill would immediately terminate the DROP program. I strongly urge City Council to pass that legislation when it returns from its summer recess.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Bill No. 110443 to you disapproved.

Respectfully,
Michael A. Nutter,
Mayor (File No. 110593)

To The President and Members of
The Council of the City of Philadelphia:

For the following reasons, I am returning herewith to your Honorable Body as disapproved Bill No. 080474-AA, which was passed by Council at its session on June 16, 2011.

Bill 080474-AA, also known as the paid sick leave bill, would require all but the very smallest employers in Philadelphia to guarantee a minimum level of paid sick leave to their employees. The laudable goal of the bill is to ensure that all workers employed in Philadelphia are able to take time off from work to address their own health needs and those of their family without having to lose pay for doing so.

I commend Councilman Clarke and Councilman Greenlee for asking us all to take a look at this important issue. All working people, at some time or another, have to take time away from work for health reasons. Unfortunately, the imposition of this requirement on Philadelphia alone - and not state-wide or on a national basis - would simply create too great a burden on our local businesses, would render us uncompetitive in the global marketplace and would cost Philadelphians jobs. As my Deputy Mayor for Economic Development Alan Greenberger stated at the public hearing on this bill, Philadelphians would like jobs with good benefits. But first and foremost, Philadelphians simply want and need jobs.

Mandating employers to provide sick leave benefits to employees raises the cost of labor for businesses that do not already provide such benefits. Moreover, the bill imposes considerable administrative burdens on businesses, particularly on small businesses that do not have sophisticated time-keeping systems in place. All of the local Chambers of Commerce - the African American Chamber, the Greater Philadelphia Hispanic Chamber, the Asian American Chamber, the Greater Northeast Chamber and the Greater Philadelphia Chamber - have gone on record opposing this bill because of its costs to businesses and the bill's negative impact on our competitiveness for jobs in Philadelphia.

Some members of Council expressed concerns during the course of the debate on this bill regarding the need for a detailed economic analysis of the bill's likely actual economic impact. To this end, the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce requested an analysis from Dr. William Dunkelberg, Professor of Economics at Temple University. His analysis concludes that employees' use of paid sick leave, the costs of substitute workers to replace those sick workers, and the administrative costs of business compliance with the bill would cost businesses in Philadelphia hundreds of millions of dollars annually and lead to the loss of thousands of jobs. Even though this analysis was prepared before amendments were made to reduce the amount of sick leave employers would be mandated to provide under the bill, Professor Dunkelberg's analysis still largely applies to the bill as it was passed by Council. The analysis projects hundreds of millions in costs for Philadelphia businesses if employees use sick leave even under the lesser amounts they would be guaranteed under the amended bill.

Moreover, this bill fails to exempt businesses that already provide the mandated number of paid sick days from complying with other aspects of the bill. The bill would require businesses that already provide generous sick leave benefits to change practices regarding when employees begin to accrue sick leave, when employees can begin to use sick leave, how employers provides notice of the employees' new benefits, the records employers keep and even the types of people the employee can take sick leave to care for.

In addition to the economic impact on our existing Philadelphia businesses, we operate in a regional economy. Philadelphia competes for new businesses and jobs with the surrounding suburbs and counties in the region. Employers who consider locating in the City often are able to, and do, locate in the surrounding counties instead. The economic reality is that between 2000 and 2009 the total number of jobs in Philadelphia decreased by about 7% or 46,400 jobs. Philadelphia's unemployment rate for December 2010 was 11.2%, which was 1.8 percentage points higher than the national rate and 3.1 percentage points higher than the unemployment rate in Pennsylvania. Our unemployment rate has improved somewhat, declining to 10.1% by May 2011, but is still 1% higher than the national rate, 2.7% higher than the unemployment rate in Pennsylvania, and well above the unemployment rates of counties surrounding Philadelphia.

We are working extremely hard to reverse these trends, but this requirement would seriously impede that work. In my view, the cost of this legislation to business expansion and attraction is simply too high. This is not the right time to adopt a bill that places significant additional operating costs on all but the smallest of City businesses. Philadelphia cannot be competitive, regionally, or nationally, if this bill is enacted only within our borders.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning to you disapproved Bill 080474-AA.

Respectfully,
Michael A. Nutter,
Mayor

To The President and Members of
The Council of the City of Philadelphia:

JOURNAL OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF PHILADELPHIA

For the following reasons, I am returning to your Honorable Body without my signature Bill No. 110306, which was passed by Council at its session on June 16, 2011.

Bill No. 110306 would authorize a currently unlawful non-accessory billboard located in the vicinity of Morris Street and Columbus Boulevard. The bill would also allow for the sign's projection of digital electronic messages, a use not currently permitted under the City's Zoning Code.

The laws regarding the permitted erection and uses of billboards are clearly addressed in the Code. The owners of this particular billboard have maintained it in violation of the Code for several years. In response to City enforcement action, the owners sought to obtain a variance through the ZBA and the courts, which efforts were unsuccessful. After failing in those efforts, the owners sought a change in the law applicable solely to the property where the sign is located through Bill 110306.

Despite a recommendation from the Planning Commission that the Bill be disapproved, Council nonetheless passed the bill in order to allow this otherwise unlawful billboard. This type of "one-off" zoning is detrimental to the City's planning efforts. Restrictions on outdoor advertising in the Zoning Code were adopted for a reason. Relaxing those restrictions one property at a time undermines the purpose of the Zoning Code and damages the City's efforts to create a consistent and predictable zoning environment.

I am therefore returning Bill No. 110306 to you without my signature.

Respectfully,
Michael A. Nutter,
Mayor (File No. 110602)
