

City of Philadelphia

Council of the City of Philadelphia
Office of the Chief Clerk
Room 402, City Hall
Philadelphia

(Resolution No. 130188)

RESOLUTION

Honoring and recognizing Philadelphia's self-made Light Heavyweight Boxing Champion, Bernard Hopkins aka "The Executioner," for establishing a new world record by winning the International Boxing Federation Light Heavyweight Championship title and for being an exemplary role model by overcoming numerous barriers to achieve success and for demonstrating to all Philadelphians the remarkable benefits of physical fitness and a healthy lifestyle.

WHEREAS, On March 9, 2013, Bernard Hopkins aka "The Executioner" at age 48, became the oldest man to win a major boxing title, scoring a unanimous noncontroversial decision in a 12-round victory over previously undefeated 31-year-old Tavoris Cloud to secure the International Boxing Federation Light Heavyweight Championship title; and

WHEREAS, Hopkins landed 110 of 227 power punches, a remarkable 48 percent according to CompuBox statistics, and had no trouble out-punching and out-landing overall punches against the younger Cloud at 169-139 to sweep the judges' scorecards (116-112, 116-112, and 117-111); and

WHEREAS, Fighting professionally for 25 years, Hopkins scored a well-earned unanimous-decision victory against Cloud who is 17 years Hopkins' junior, to win a light heavyweight world title for the third time and to establish a new world record; and

WHEREAS, Hopkins made history at age 46 by defeating Jean Pascal for the World Boxing Council Light Heavyweight title in May 2011, when he broke the world record previously held by George Foreman. By claiming another 175-pound Light Heavyweight title against Cloud, Hopkins broke his own record as the oldest fighter in boxing history to win a major belt; and

WHEREAS, Born and raised in Philadelphia in the Raymond Rosen projects of North Philadelphia, Hopkins turned to crime early in his life. By age 13, he was mugging people and had been stabbed three times and was arrested more than 30 times before he turned 17; and

City of Philadelphia

RESOLUTION NO. 130188 continued

WHEREAS, While incarcerated at Graterford State Prison on an 18-year sentence for armed robbery and eight other felonies, Hopkins commenced his boxing career; and

WHEREAS, Hopkins also known at the time as Prisoner No. Y4146 became a jailhouse boxing champion with a drive to turn his life around. Within seven years, Hopkins had fought his way out of hell -- otherwise known as D-block -- to the middleweight championship; and

WHEREAS, Without an Olympic pedigree or the backing of a top-shelf promoter, Hopkins became a star by being undefeated for 18 years while defending the middleweight crown 20 times between 1995 and 2005 (establishing a division-record); and

WHEREAS, Hopkins then moved up two weight divisions and twice won light heavyweight titles after his 40th birthday. This latest victory marks his third stint as a 175-pound champion; and

WHEREAS, Hopkins attributes his youth-defying, amazing physical fitness to an ascetic lifestyle that excludes drugs, alcohol, and unhealthy foods such as donuts or pizza and incorporates a regular exercise regimen; and

WHEREAS, Many youth in Philadelphia experience unfavorable circumstances and barriers to success that plighted Hopkins his youth and such find inspiration and motivation from Hopkins amazing achievements; and

WHEREAS, Hopkins' demonstrates superior physical fitness and a dedication healthy eating and an active lifestyle that serves as an important role model to all Philadelphians for the remarkable benefits of physical fitness and a healthy lifestyle; and now therefore, at a time when obesity has become a public crisis in Philadelphia; now therefore, be it

RESOLVED, THAT THE PHILADELPHIA CITY COUNCIL, Honors Philadelphia's self-made Light Heavyweight Boxing Champion, Bernard Hopkins aka "The Executioner," for establishing a new world record by winning the International Boxing Federation Light Heavyweight Championship title and for being an exemplary role model by overcoming numerous barriers to achieve success and for demonstrating to all Philadelphians the remarkable benefits of physical fitness and a healthy lifestyle; and

FURTHER RESOLVED, That an Engrossed copy of this resolution be presented to Philadelphia's self-made Light Heavyweight Boxing Champion, Bernard Hopkins aka "The Executioner," as a sincere expression of the genuine appreciation, admiration and respect of this legislative body.

City of Philadelphia

RESOLUTION NO. 130188 continued

City of Philadelphia

RESOLUTION NO. 130188 continued

CERTIFICATION: This is a true and correct copy of the original Resolution, Adopted by the Council of the City of Philadelphia on the fourteenth of March, 2013.

Darrell L. Clarke
PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL

Michael A. Decker
CHIEF CLERK OF THE COUNCIL

Introduced by: Councilmembers Jones and Blackwell

Sponsored by: Councilmembers Jones and Blackwell