Service Fee

Section 401. Service Fee. In consideration of the undertakings by the Authority under this Service Agreement with respect to the Program, the City agrees to pay as a Service Fee in each Fiscal Year directly to the Trustee, as the assignee of the Authority, the following sums:

(a) The Annual Debt Service Requirement for such Fiscal Year, payable as follows:

(i) On or before the second Business Day prior to the date such amount is required to be paid to the holders of the Bonds, the amount which is equal to the principal or mandatory redemption price of the Bonds becoming due on the immediately succeeding principal maturity or mandatory redemption date, subject to credit for other available funds in the manner provided in the Indenture.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, in no event shall the Annual Debt Service Requirement in any Fiscal Year exceed $20,000,000 for any Bonds issued by the Authority for the Program unless a higher Annual Debt Service Requirement shall have been approved by an ordinance of the City in accordance with Section 709(c).

The Service Fee shall be payable only out of the current revenues of the City, and the City agrees to provide for the payment of the Service Fee and include the same in its annual operating budget for each year. If the current revenues are insufficient to pay the total Service Fee in any Fiscal Year as the same becomes due and payable, the City covenants to include amounts not so paid in its operating budget for the ensuing Fiscal Year in order to provide sufficient current revenues to pay in each ensuing year such balance due in addition to the amount of Service Fee due for such ensuing year.

The City covenants to make appropriations in each of its Fiscal Years in such amounts as shall be required in order to make all Service Fee payments due and payable hereunder in each of the City's Fiscal Years.

Section 402. No Set-Off. The obligation of the City to make the payments required under this Service Agreement shall be absolute and unconditional. The City will pay without suspension, abatement, reduction, abrogation, waiver or diminution all payments required hereunder regardless of any cause or circumstance whatsoever, which may now exist or may hereafter arise, including, without limitation, any defense, set-off, recoupment or counterclaim which the City may have or assert against the Authority, the Trustee, any Bondholder or any other person.

Section 403. Prepayment. The City shall be permitted, at any time and from time to time, to prepay all or any part of the amounts payable under Section 401 hereof together with such other amounts as shall be sufficient to redeem or otherwise pay all or a portion of the Bonds of any series in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture.

Section 404. Other Payments by City. The City shall make the following payments:

(a) [contemporaneously with the execution and delivery hereof, the Authority's initial fee with respect to the 2001 Bonds of $ _____;]

(b) the Authority's other Administrative Expenses incurred from time to time; and

(c) directly to the Trustee, on behalf of the Authority, upon invoice therefor, the Administrative Expenses of the Trustee as provided in Section _____ of the Indenture.

The Administrative Expenses shall be payable only out of the current revenues of the City, and the City agrees to provide for the payment of the Administrative Expenses and include the same in its annual operating budget for each year. If the current revenues are insufficient to pay the total Administrative Expenses in any Fiscal Year as the same become due and payable, the City covenants to include amounts not so paid in its operating budget for the ensuing Fiscal Year in order to provide sufficient current revenues to pay in each ensuing year such balance due in addition to the amount of Administrative Expenses due for such ensuing year.

The City covenants to make appropriations in each of its Fiscal Years in such amounts as shall be required in order to make all Administrative Expense payments due and payable hereunder in each of the City's Fiscal Years.

Section 405. Assignment of Service Agreement. The Authority hereby notifies the City that all the Authority's right, title and interest in and to this Service Agreement, including its rights to receive the above payments (except for the Reserved Rights), shall be irrevocably assigned by the Authority to the Trustee as security for the Bonds as provided in the Indenture, and in furtherance of said assignment the Authority hereby irrevocably assigns all payments by the City hereunder (except for the Reserved Rights) to the Trustee for deposit or application in accordance with this Service Agreement and the Indenture. The City hereby consents to such assignment. The Authority consents to the payment by the City of, and directs the City to pay, all such assigned amounts directly to the Trustee.

Section 406. Excess Funds. After all of the Bonds have been paid or payment thereof has been provided for and all interest and applicable premium, if any, due thereon and all other amounts required to be paid under the Indenture have been paid or provision for such retirement and payment has been made in accordance with the Indenture, excess moneys in the funds and accounts established under the Indenture from whatever source derived will be paid to the City. This paragraph shall survive the termination of this Service Agreement.

The City covenants that all actions heretofore and hereafter taken by the City or by the Authority upon the request of any officer of the City in connection with the Program, including the making of contracts, have been and will be in full compliance with all pertinent laws, ordinances, rules, regulations and orders applicable to the City. The City acknowledges that any review by the Authority's staff or counsel of any action heretofore or hereafter taken by the City has been or will be solely for the protection of the Authority. The City hereby assumes and agrees to perform all of the covenants and other obligations of the Authority under the Indenture, excepting only any approvals or consents required to be given by the Authority thereunder, and those covenants contained in the Indenture which are not within the control of the City.

Section 504. Compliance with the Internal Revenue Code. Each of the City and the Authority covenants that it will neither make nor instruct the Trustee to make any investment or other use of the proceeds of the Bonds, the interest on which is intended to be excludable from gross income of the holders thereof, which would cause such Bonds to be "arbitrage bonds" as that term is defined in Section 148(a) of the Code; that it will comply with the requirements of the Code throughout the term of such Bonds so that the interest on such Bonds shall be excluded from gross income for federal income tax purposes; and that it will not apply the proceeds of such Bonds in such a manner as would result in the loss of the exclusion of interest on such Bonds from gross income of the owners for federal tax purposes.

The City further covenants that it will calculate and pay directly to the United States the amount of arbitrage rebate payable to the United States Treasury under the Code pursuant to Section _____ of the Indenture.

Section 505. No Personal Recourse Against Authority; Assumption of Financial Responsibility.

(a) In the exercise of the power of the Authority and its members, officers, employees and agents under this Service Agreement or the Indenture including (without limiting the foregoing) the application of moneys and the investment of funds, neither the Authority nor its members, officers, employees or agents shall be accountable to the City for any action taken or omitted by it or them except actions constituting bad faith, willful misconduct, [negligence,] fraud or deceit of the Authority or of any member, officer, employee or agent. The Authority and such other persons shall be protected in its or their acting upon any paper or document believed by it or them to be genuine, and it or they may conclusively rely upon the advice of counsel and may (but need not) require further evidence of any fact or matter before taking any action. No recourse shall be had by the City for any claims against any member, officer, employee or agent of the Authority alleging personal liability on the part of such person based on this Service Agreement or on the Indenture or based on the Authority's participation in the Program.

(b) To the extent authorized by applicable law, and in consideration of the service being rendered by the Authority to the City pursuant to the Authority Law, the City agrees to indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Authority and each of its directors, officers, employees, agents and representatives (each an "Indemnified Party" and collectively, the "Indemnified Parties"), against any and all suits, claims or causes of action (collectively, "Claims"), and all liabilities, losses, costs, expenses, judgments and amounts paid in settlement (including without limitation, reasonable attorneys' fees) of every kind (collectively, "Losses"), relating to or arising in connection with the Authority's entering into this Service Agreement, the Indenture or any other documents executed by the Authority in connection with the transactions contemplated in connection with the Program, the performance of any of the Authority's obligations hereunder or thereunder, any acts or omissions with respect to the Authority's interest under this Service Agreement, the Indenture or any other documents executed by the Authority in connection with the transactions contemplated thereby, or any other acts or omissions relating to the Authority's involvement in the Program; except in each case to the extent that the Claims and Losses are attributable to the willful misconduct, [negligence,] bad faith, fraud or deceit of any such Indemnified Party.

(c) In the event any such Claim is made or action brought against any Indemnified Party, the City shall assume the defense of the Claim and any action brought thereon and the City shall pay all expenses incurred therein; or the Authority, with the consent of the City Solicitor, may assume the defense of any such Claim or action, the reasonable costs of which shall be paid by the City; provided, however, that Counsel selected by the Authority to conduct such defense shall be approved by the City and further provided that the City may engage its own Counsel to participate in the defense of any such action.

(d) The City shall have the right to control the defense of any legal proceedings involving any Claims (other than Claims relating to the inherent powers of the Authority), but shall keep the Authority advised as to all material developments in such proceedings. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the City shall not be required to indemnify or defend any Indemnified Party against any Claims or Losses to the extent such Claim or Loss is the result of the willful misconduct, bad faith, [negligence,] fraud or deceit of the Authority or such Indemnified Party; provided, however, the Authority's taking of any action, or the failure to take any action, which it is permitted to take under the terms of this Service Agreement, the Indenture or any of the documents involved in the Program, shall under no circumstances be deemed to constitute willful misconduct, bad faith, [negligence,] fraud or deceit; and furthermore, the taking of any action by the Authority at the written direction of the City or the Trustee shall not under any circumstances be deemed to constitute willful misconduct, bad faith, [negligence,] fraud, or deceit.

(e) The City shall not be obligated under Section 505(b), (c) or (d) of this Service Agreement unless the Indemnified Party has given the City prompt and timely notice of matters contemplated by Section 505 (b), (c) or (d); provided however, the failure to so notify the City will not relieve the City from any obligation under Section 501013|(b), (c), or (d) except to the extent such failure has materially injured the ability of the City to defend such matter successfully or to minimize the economic exposure resulting therefrom. Nothing in this Section 505 shall be deemed to preclude the City from asserting any claim against an Indemnified Party for expenses arising from such Indemnified Party's willful misconduct, bad faith, [negligence,] fraud or deceit.

Section 506. Liabilities of the Trustee. The City shall at all times assume complete financial responsibility for all liabilities, losses, claims, causes of action and reasonable costs and expenses (including, without limitation, reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses, including the actual and reasonable allocated costs and expenses of in-house counsel) incurred by, imposed upon or asserted against the Trustee, including its officers, directors, employees and agents, or any of them, for following any instruction or direction upon which the Trustee is authorized to rely pursuant to the terms of this Service Agreement, the Indenture or the Bonds or which arise on account of or result from any actions taken or omitted to be taken by the Trustee, except as a result of its or their negligence or willful misconduct, relating to or arising out of this Service Agreement, the Indenture or the Bonds.

Section 507. No Waiver of Immunity. Nothing herein shall waive or amend any defense or immunity which the City or the Authority, their officers, employees or agents may have under the Pennsylvania Political Subdivision Tort Claims Act, 42 Pa. C.S.A. §8541 et seq. or the Commonwealth Agency Law, 42 Pa. C.S.A. §8521 et seq.

(b) The failure of the City to make any other payment or to perform any other covenant, condition or agreement herein on its part to be performed; and

(c) If the City proposes or makes an assignment for the benefit of creditors or a composition agreement with all or a material part of its creditors, or a trustee, receiver, executor, conservator, liquidator, sequestrator or other judicial representative, similar or dissimilar, is appointed for the City or any of its assets or revenues, or there is commenced any proceeding in liquidation, bankruptcy, reorganization, arrangement of debts, debtor rehabilitation, creditor adjustment or insolvency, state or federal, by or against the City and if such is not vacated, dismissed or stayed on appeal within sixty (60) days.

Section 602. Notice of Defaults; Opportunity to Cure Such Defaults.

(a) No default under 601 (a) hereof shall constitute an Event of Default if the City's failure to make any payment due under this Service Agreement is cured within two (2) Business Days after the due date of the payment; provided, however, that in no event shall such cure period extend beyond the date and time the payment is due to the Bondholders or any Credit Issuer or Swap Provider.

(b) No default under Section 601(b) hereof shall constitute an Event of Default until actual notice of such default by registered or certified mail shall be given to the City by the Authority or the Trustee and the City shall have had 30 days after receipt of such notice to correct the default and shall not have corrected it; provided, however, if the default cannot be corrected within such 30-day period, it shall not constitute an Event of Default if corrective action is instituted by the City within the period and diligently pursued until the default is corrected.

Section 603. Remedies. If any Event of Default shall occur and be continuing, the Authority (or the Trustee as assignee of the Authority) may at its option exercise any one or more of the following remedies:

In no event shall the due dates for payments of the Service Fee hereunder be accelerated.

Section 604. No Remedy Exclusive. No remedy herein conferred upon or reserved to the Authority is intended to be exclusive of any other available remedy or remedies, but each and every such remedy shall be cumulative and shall be in addition to every other remedy given under this Service Agreement or now or hereafter existing at law or in equity or by statute. No delay or omission to exercise any right or power accruing upon any default shall impair any such right or power or shall be construed to be a waiver thereof, but any such right and power may be exercised from time to time and as often as may be deemed expedient. In order to entitle the Authority or the Trustee to exercise any remedy reserved to it in this Article, it shall not be necessary to give any notice, other than such notice as may be herein expressly required.

Section 605. No Additional Waiver Implied by One Waiver. In the event the breach of any agreement contained in this Service Agreement should be waived by either party, such waiver shall be limited to the particular breach so waived and shall not be deemed to waive any other breach hereunder.

I. BACKGROUND AND CONTEXT

The City of Philadelphia is a City of enormous vitality and even greater potential. It occupies a strategic East Coast location between the business and political capitals of the world. Philadelphia is home to some of the nation’s best academic and cultural institutions; it is a livable city known for its vibrant neighborhoods.

Over the past four decades, the City of Philadelphia has experienced a steady decline in the health and vitality of its neighborhoods because of profound changes in the local economy. Few neighborhoods in Philadelphia have escaped the effects of blight: abandoned cars, short dumping, vacant lots, abandoned housing and aging housing stock. Several sections of the City stand out, as they have suffered the greatest impact of blight.

A. THE PHILADELPHIA ECONOMY

As the center of manufacturing, Philadelphia’s stature and growth during the first half of the 20th century were unparalleled. However, in the last decades of the 20th century, new economic systems based upon information technology, telecommunications, and the foreign production of goods and services fundamentally changed the worldwide economy, with far-reaching consequences for Philadelphia and its neighborhoods. As shown below, the characteristics of the new economy, which began to emerge during the 1970s, are radically different from the characteristics of the old manufacturing economy on which the success of many Philadelphia neighborhoods was based.

	Old Economy	New Economy
Primary product	Manufactured goods	Information
Typical producer	Large company	Network of smaller specialized firms
Production location	Urban	International
Production site	Multi-story factory near densely populated urban neighborhood	Suburban office campus near highway interchange or “smart” office space
Workforce characteristics	Unskilled/semi-skilled	Professional. College degrees or advanced training required.

With the shift from a local and industrial-based economy, Philadelphia experienced the loss of businesses, jobs, and people. During the transition, manufacturing companies based in the City moved, downsized or closed. Newer information technology firms sought modern facilities located outside Philadelphia, along Routes 309 and 202. People, especially the middle class, followed the jobs to the suburbs or other regions of the United States, generating an unprecedented population decline. Since its peak population year in the 1950s, Philadelphia has lost more than 600,000 people.

The dramatic drop in City dwellers decimated the residential and commercial real estate markets in many neighborhoods. Some neighborhoods in north, south, west, and southwest Philadelphia lost more than one third of their residents. Since very few people and businesses were moving into the City, there were no buyers for the houses vacated when a family moved or an older resident died. Robust commercial corridors, such as Germantown, Ridge, Woodland, and Point Breeze Avenues, declined as people moved away and shopping patterns changed. Beginning in the late 1960s, the City began to experience long term housing vacancy. Today, there are more than 26,000 vacant houses, 2900 abandoned factories, and nearly 31,000 lots.

Because this large-scale economic divestment was unforeseen and without precedent, Philadelphia government did not respond well to the new challenges accompanying the fundamental and quickening changes happening in the neighborhood economy. First, the loss of tax paying businesses and people meant the loss of revenues for basic municipal services and neighborhood improvements. By the 1990s, Philadelphia was on the verge of bankruptcy. In addition, policy changes in federal programs added to Philadelphia's precarious financial situation. For example, many of the vacant buildings and land that we see today are the remnants of housing and community development programs cut by the federal government during the 1980s.

As important, the economic losses that occurred in Philadelphia neighborhoods during the last quarter of the 20th century caused a less tangible, but equally, serious problem. The morale and community spirit of Philadelphia residents dissipated because blight and social disorganization spiraled out of control. Today, Philadelphians are cynical and lack confidence in the ability of government to work together effectively to stabilize and revitalize Philadelphia neighborhoods.

Against this backdrop of blight, economic divestment, and social disintegration, the Neighborhood Transformation Initiative (NTI) proposes to lay a foundation for change and renewal. While the successful implementation of NTI will help eliminate much of the long-standing physical blight that plagues Philadelphia neighborhoods, full transformation will be a long-term effort. It requires, among other things, new economy businesses, a trained workforce, high quality schools, safe streets, and social service support systems for the poor and elderly. NTI reaches beyond the tenure of any one Mayor and any one administration. It requires an on-going commitment by elected officials at every level, the leveraging of available public funds, and a long-term partnership between government, the private sector, nonprofit sector, and the residents of this City.

B. THE NEIGHBORHOOD TRANSFORMATION INITIATIVE ("NTI")

NTI is a multi-faceted strategic plan. It seeks to eradicate the City's significant inventory of vacant, ever-deteriorating buildings and debris-filled lots while constructing a comprehensive, strategic and thorough redevelopment plan that revitalizes some neighborhoods and stabilizes others. NTI is citywide in scope; thus, it will affect Philadelphia's diverse population, replete with its diverse housing needs and distinct community concerns.

1. NTI Goals

NTI has six primary goals that seek to:

- Facilitate and support community-based planning and the development of area plans that reflect citywide and neighborhood visions;

- Eradicate blight caused by dangerous buildings, debris-filled lots, abandoned cars, and graffiti in order to improve the appearance of Philadelphia streetscapes;
- Advance the quality of life in Philadelphia neighborhoods with a targeted and coordinated code enforcement program to abate public nuisances;
- Improve the City's ability to assemble land for development;
- Stimulate and attract investment in Philadelphia neighborhoods through strategic partnerships between the public, private and nonprofit sectors; and
- Leverage public resources to the fullest extent possible and invest resources in neighborhoods strategically.

Effectively promoting new investment in Philadelphia's neighborhoods requires transparent strategies, predictable administrative policies, and a coordinated, comprehensive approach that mandates cooperation between public agencies, community residents, private and non-profits sector interests. NTI contemplates expending funds, and implementing programs, based upon processes that are data-driven, build upon market strengths, and evolve out of a planning process. To achieve these objectives, the City completed an analysis of Philadelphia real estate markets in March 2001. This study identified six market clusters. This cluster analysis will help define an appropriate City government and tailor programs and services to fit market strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats.

2. Cluster Analysis

a. Regional Choice

These areas have the highest average housing values; values tend to fluctuate along with the general economic cycle experienced in this and other cities, and the housing stock is generally older and in good condition. Regional Choice markets have a mix of both residential and commercial uses as well as owner and renter occupied stock. Resident credit scores tend to be the highest in the City in these areas.

b. High Value/Appreciating

These areas, like the Regional Choice markets, have very high average housing values, strong appreciation and population stability; however, unlike the Regional Choice markets, these areas contain less commercial activity and higher rates of homeownership. Older housing, in good condition, is the norm. Resident credit scores are generally good.

c. Steady

These markets have high housing values, but not as high as the Regional Choice and High Value/Appreciating markets. Price appreciation over the 90's was not strong. Steady markets have very little commercial presence and owner occupancy rates are high. The age of housing reflects a substantial portion of the homes built during the post World War II housing construction boom. Resident credit scores are generally high, but show signs of erosion.

d. Transitional

These markets have housing values that exceed the citywide average; change was minimal over the 90's. Although in many of these markets the housing stock is relatively younger, some show signs of elevated levels of vacancies, dangerous properties, demolitions and other indicators of physical deterioration. Transitional markets have about the lowest average level of commercial uses. These markets have the highest average level of owner occupancy. Resident credit scores reflect greater risk than the aforementioned markets, meaning that access to traditional sources of credit is reduced.

e. Distressed

Distressed markets have home values well below the other markets. There is price appreciation in these markets (e.g., from $39,800 in 1990 to $46,200 in 1999), but the appreciation is based on low real estate values. The housing stock is old and beginning to show signs of wear and tear. The number of demolitions, vacant and dangerous houses is significant. A large percentage of the households are elderly. Many households are unable to borrow from mainstream financial institutions because of low incomes and poor credit histories.

f. Reclamation

Reclamation markets have the oldest housing and the lowest average values. While the 1990s showed substantial percentage gain in sale prices (e.g., from $15,900 in 1990 to $20,700 in 1999), these prices remain well below the citywide average. Vacancy rates are very high and a significant proportion of the occupied housing stock is in substandard condition. There is very little commercial presence. Both owner occupancy and Section 8 tenancy rates are high. Resident credit scores reflect the highest risk levels in the City.

C. NEIGHBORHOOD PLANNING

Although past community planning processes have been effective in some places, success in creating and implementing plans in other neighborhoods has been uncertain and uneven. Where strong community development organizations exist, it is more likely that planning and development will occur. Yet, too many Philadelphia communities have been left behind, and too many community residents do not feel they have a voice.

A basic function of City Planning Commission (CPC) is to provide communities with neighborhood planning capacity. Under the leadership of the CPC, the City is committed to making planning citywide, inclusive, and community based.

1. City Planning Objectives

The City's neighborhood planning process will have three objectives:

- To develop planning principles and create a transparent process for community-based planning and land use review.
- To develop a system that ensures that community residents have an opportunity to review and comment on any proposed plan;

- To develop a structure for community planning that encourages a larger framework for decision-making than simple neighborhood boundaries.

The CPC will coordinate planning activities associated with NTI. These activities will include among other things:

- Establishing neighborhood standards to provide a consistent basis for determining community need, measuring programmatic success, and allocating resources;
- Creating a process to support ongoing neighborhood planning activities in communities across the City;
- Initiating or reviewing physical plans for neighborhoods and convening or co-convening meetings and hearings at the community and area level.
- Coordinating community planning activities throughout city government; and
- Acting as a liaison between neighborhood groups, citywide advocacy organizations and city agencies.

II. THE NTI BONDS

The keystone for the successful execution of NTI is the issuance of approximately $250 million of bonds by the Redevelopment Authority of the City of Philadelphia (the "RDA") in several series. RDA may issue bonds from time to time during the period of seven years from the effective date of the enabling legislation for the purpose of funding a portion of the costs of the Program at such rates or yields to result in an annual debt service requirement in excess of $20 million for all bonds issued by the RDA for the Program. All bond proceeds over and above $250 million will be used to fund redevelopment, housing and neighborhood preservation activities. These bonds will enable the City to generate sufficient resources to eliminate the backlog of dangerous buildings that are safety hazards in Philadelphia neighborhoods; prevent the encroachment of blight into stable neighborhoods; and create opportunities for redevelopment in the most distressed areas of the City.

Using a combination of tax-exempt and taxable bond financing, the City will implement programs (NTI Bond Programs) designed to protect the health, safety and general welfare of Philadelphia residents while fostering the revitalization, renewal, redevelopment and transformation of blighted areas within the City. Subject to the applicable rules and regulations of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC), the Bond Program may include, but shall not be limited to, the following types of activities:

- Demolition and clearing of vacant, unsafe, unfit or imminently dangerous structures;
- Encapsulation, stabilization, cleaning and sealing of structures;
- Environmental assessments and remediation;
- Acquisition of property, whether by purchase or exercise of power of eminent domain or otherwise;
- Holding, maintaining, improving, marketing, redeveloping and sale or lease of property;
- Fencing, the cutting down of dead street trees and removal of graffiti and other measures for safety or beautification of public spaces and private property;

- Relocation of residents affected by demolition and redevelopment activities and payment of the costs thereof;
- Provision of financial assistance, including grants, loans or guarantees, for the acquisition, improvement or redevelopment of property for industrial, commercial or residential purposes;
- Repair of streets, driveways, curbs and sidewalks and retaining walls and provision of utility infrastructure and public facilities; and
- Development and maintenance of databases and management information systems with respect to the foregoing.

Three types of bonds will be issued:

- Governmental Purpose Bonds

A two-pronged test determines whether an activity may be funded with governmental purpose bonds. To be eligible, the activity must serve a governmental purpose such as protecting the health, safety and general welfare of the public. As important, the activity cannot benefit a "private person" or result in any "private payment" as defined by the IRC. The demolition and encapsulation of vacant and dangerous buildings as authorized by the Philadelphia Property Maintenance Code are eligible activities. In addition, governmental purpose bonds may fund the relocation of individuals residing in properties adjoining a demolished property, where relocation is required for safety reasons.

- Private Activity Bonds

Private activity bonds are bonds may be used to fund certain qualified programs and may benefit "private parties" and/or result in "private payments." Examples of qualified programs and projects include: home purchase mortgages and home owner assistance programs; demolition, environmental remediation, acquisition and relocation costs associated with redevelopment projects; energy conservation programs; financing manufacturing facilities; and, low-income housing development. Private activity bonds that fund home ownership and home improvement programs are subject to income and/or purchase price limits. Loans to businesses are eligible activities if the business is located within the Philadelphia Empowerment Zone. Otherwise, this type of bond financing is limited to manufacturing projects.

- Taxable Bonds

These bonds are issued for any approved City or RDA purpose and do not have the additional tax code restrictions of tax-exempt bonds.

III. BLIGHT ELIMINATION ACTIVITIES

A. DEMOLITION OF DANGEROUS VACANT HOUSES

The goal of the residential demolition program is to protect the health, safety and general welfare of Philadelphians by eliminating the City's inventory of vacant and dangerous houses in approximately five years. According to a survey completed by the Department of Licenses and Inspection in January 2000, approximately 8,000 of the 26,152 vacant houses are structurally dangerous and may collapse at anytime.

However, the total number of demolitions required to eliminate the unsafe conditions in neighborhoods may climb as high as 14,000. Vacant houses that are not structurally dangerous today will continue to deteriorate and become dangerous over the next five years. In fact, experience indicates that approximately 1000-1200 vacant houses become dangerous each year. In addition, it is neither cost-effective nor efficient to tear down just the dangerous buildings and not the vacant properties that are adjacent to, or set between, the dangerous ones. Considering these factors, the City believes that it will need to demolish approximately 14,000 houses to eliminate the current backlog of dangerous buildings and arrest the development of new dangerous buildings. The City will use governmental purpose bonds to fund the demolition of dangerous and vacant houses.

1. Priorities

The City's demolition strategy will give priority to public safety, economies of scale, and potential redevelopment opportunity. The City will use "raster modeling" to help prioritize demolitions and develop a five-year master schedule. The type of data that the City will evaluate when making demolition decisions includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- Condition of structure;
- Degree of vacancy;
- Ownership characteristics;
- Social, cultural and economic anchors;
- Parcel characteristics;
- Schools;
- Economic, social and cultural anchors;
- Housing and community development investments;
- Population change;
- Proximity to noxious land uses; and
- Real estate market conditions.

2. Operating Principles

The City will adhere to the following principles when carrying out demolition:

- Elected officials, community leaders, and neighborhood residents will be given ample notice of planned demolition activities;
- The demolition of vacant structures will be conducted in a safe, orderly, and environmentally sound manner;
- Demolition work will be undertaken in a manner that will minimize community disruption; and
- The City will structure bid documents to lower costs and meet the City's economic opportunity goals for the NTI.

The City's plans to bid packages of demolition work on a geographic basis will enable the City to better manage the activity and reduce costs. The City projects spending approximately $10,000 per house for demolition and related activities, such as applying stucco to the adjoining property walls, cutting down dead and dangerous trees on the property, and seeding and fencing the vacant lot if appropriate and cost effective. The actual size and number of bid packages will depend on several factors, including contractor capacity, concentration of vacant dangerous properties, environmental abatement requirements, and economic opportunity goals. The City will use a Program Manager to oversee the demolition, cleaning, sealing, and encapsulation work financed with bond proceeds. The Program Manager's Scope of work is comprised of three phases.

Phase 1: Planning and Project Development
